PEONIES

By Edgar A. Guest

Summer is rich in all manner o' ways—
The chorus of birds an' the sun's golden rays,
The blue o' the sky an' the scent o' the Rose;
Wherever you turn to, some loveliness grows;
But there's nothing so sweet as that old-fashioned room
In the old-fashioned home where the Peonies bloom.

I'm fond o' the Daisies an' Pansies an' all
The beauty that shines by the old garden wall
There's a charm in the lilacs that stays to the end.
An' there's nowhere a bloom that isn't my friend;
But there's somethin' or other that lightens the gloom
In my old fashioned heart when the Peonies bloom.

They've always been close to the lives of us all;
The first time I saw them I still can recall—
'Twas my mother who showed me their glorious charm,
As she stood with a cluster of pinks in her arm;
She taught me their beauty, an' ever since then
I've watched for the Peonies to bloom again.

There was never a June but the old home has known
A touch of the beauty the Peonies own;
They've come back each year to bring joy to the place,
For our eyes to behold and our arms to embrace,
An' life seems to lose the dead weight of its gloom
In those wonderful weeks when the Peonies bloom.

A collection of Peonies, 5 varieties of my selection from double named peonies but without labeling, $1.00. Everything herein quoted is delivered free to post or express office of your town.

Visit my gardens at blooming time.

Yours truly,

WILL W. FISHER, Watervliet, Mich.
